Alfie: So, how's it going with Jack?

Daisy: Not great. I mean, I like him a lot, but it's impossible! During the week I _____ _____ _____ on Mondays, I ____ _____ on Tuesdays and _____ on Thursdays.

Alfie: ____ ____ _____ him on Wednesdays, then?

Daisy: No, he _____ black and white _____ at his _____ club on Wednesdays.

Oliver: Yeah, and they're not just really old films, Alfie, they watch foreign ones with subtitles too!

Alfie: Well, there's always the weekend. ___ ____ ____ _____ together at the weekends?

Daisy: That's just it, it's tricky. He _____ in the _____ all day Saturday and he _____ ____ with his mates from the book club on Saturday evenings.

Alfie: Whoa! Book club? So, ___ _____ old films and books!? Mmm ..____ ___ _____ sports?

Daisy: ____ really. He thinks chess is a sport! Well, ___ _____ _____ on the telly sometimes, but he _____ _____ any sports.

Alfie: Mmm ... I think you're right. It's impossible!

Daisy: Right, I'm late. See you later.

Alfie and Oliver: See you, Daisy.

Sophie: Hi, love.

Oliver: All right, Mum?

Sophie: Yeah, I'm fine.

Oliver: Good trip?

Sophie: Not bad, but Thailand's really hot at this time of year. I'm off to Chiang Mai tomorrow to do a three-day trek. ____ _____ _____ at 5 in the morning. How's Daisy? Is she with you?

Oliver: No, ____ ____ _____ on Thursdays.

Sophie: Ah, of course. No problem. Listen, ask Daisy to phone me later, OK? The number of the hotel is on the fridge and I'm in room 37.

Oliver: All right, Mum. Speak later. Watch out for the snakes!

Sophie: Thanks, Ollie! Bye, love. See you Sunday.

Alfie: Is your mum in _____ this week?

Oliver: Yeah. Trekking in Chiang Mai for three days.

Alfie: Wow – that beats going to college. Imagine, _____ _____ ___ ___ _____! I can't imagine my mum doing that. Cool. _____ ____ _____ walking?

Oliver: No, not really. Only if it's to ____ _____ on the high street!

Alfie: See you tomorrow.

Oliver: Yeah, see you tomorrow.

Alfie: See you tomorrow.

Oliver: Yeah, see you tomorrow.
