

AGREEING

(+) we use so + auxiliary verb + subject (personal pronoun or noun) to agree with a positive statement.

A: Tom lives in London. B: So do I.

(-) We use neither + auxiliary verb + subject (personal pronoun or noun) to agree with a negative statement.

A. Jim doesn't like horror films. B: Neither do I.

Auxiliary verb (helping verb =)

กริยาช่วย คือ กริยาที่นำไป.....ตัวอื่นเพื่อสร้างให้เป็น tense

- v. to be : _____ , _____ , _____ , _____ , _____
- v. to have : _____ , _____ , _____
- v. to do : _____ , _____ , _____
- will, would
- shall, should
- can, could
- may, might
- must
- need

NOTE

A : Complete the sentences using so or neither/nor (Subject = I)

1. She is going to the dentist. _____
2. I will do it. _____
3. I hadn't seen him before. _____
4. I enjoyed the game. _____
5. I'm going to a party tonight. _____
6. I saw him last month . _____
7. We had been there twice. _____
8. I can play the piano. _____
9. She isn't going to the dentist today. _____
10. My mother has never been a nurse. _____

B : Complete the sentences using so or neither/nor

1. My classmates can swim under water. (They) _____
2. Sue wants a dollhouse for her birthday. (Kate) _____
3. Joe's friends won't go to the party with him. (Mary) _____
4. Tim says that his job as a vet is so exciting. (Tom) _____
5. I never drink coffee in the afternoons. (My father) _____
6. I can't remember my old classmates' names. (John and David) _____
7. My little brother isn't well today. (my sister) _____