October 10---- I finished all morning. Then I hurryed back to the harbor to meet Ben. We saw a female seal swimming in the harbor water. She looked like she was grining at us. I choped up some fish and tossed it to her. The sea ate the fish right away. Ben smiled and said, "I guess she's not interested in saveing the fish for later." The seal swam away. We wraped up the rest of our fish and brought it home. I wonder if we'll see that seal again.
