VOCABULARY REVIEW

ENVIRONMENTAL COMPOUNDS

1. READ THE SENTENCES CAREFULLY AND MATCH COLUMN A WITH THE CORRECT ANSWERS IN COLUMN B

COLUMN A		COLUMN B
1. Many studies suggest that acid		A. gases which absorbs energy from the sun, making the air warmer.
2. Many new homes now have carbon		B. change is natural and even beneficial.
3. To protect the environment, carbon and emissions		C. audit to make sure that they are environmentally friendly
4. Some people believe climate		D. fuels replaced by renewable energy sources.
5. After a recent study, a new conservation		E. effect can be reduced, or whether the damage is already too severe.
6. Many people would like to see fossil		F. sites rather than recycling because they are cheaper.
7. All new building projects are subject to a green		G. monoxide detectors installed in each bedroom
8. Many scientists argue whether the greenhouse		H. layer, it hasn't repaired itself yet.
9. Carbon dioxide is one of the greenhouse		I. forests continue to be destroyed.
10. Many countries use landfill		J. development as their main policy
11. If managed carefully, some nature		K. rain is a key factor in declining tree health
12. Despite efforts to protect the ozone		L. trading aren't enough, many environmentalists argue
13. Despite growing international concern, rain		M. reserves can still be popular tourist attractions.
14. Some political parties focus on environmentally sustainable		N. area was created to protect the ecosystem

LIVEWORKSHEETS