Wool is the hair of some mammals. Most wool comes from sheep and goats. Llamas and different types of camels and rabbits also give us wool. This hair is used to make wool cloth. Wool cloth is used to make clothes. Things made from wool keep us warm.

The wool is cut from the sheep. After that, it is cleaned. Dirt, grease and sweat are removed. Next, the clean wool is separated into fibres and then combed. Then, the fibres are spun to make yarn.

Yarn is used to weave material or knit clothes. Some of the clothes made from wool are sweaters, blankets, gloves, shawls, socks, coats, rugs and men's suits.
