We're taking her to the hospital

Paul Young works in a local hospital as a paramedic. At the moment he is driving in the Accident Ambulance to the accident in the city centre. But he isn't alone. There is another paramedic working with him today, Tom. It is his first day at work.

Tom and Paul are arriving and immediately helping the accident victim – pregnant woman. She is conscious but she has problems with breathing – she's gasping. Paul says:

-Calm down, we're here to help you. Breathe deeply and slowly through the open mouth. Which month is it?

-It's thirty-first week. It's my first child, I'm scared.-she answers Paul says:

-Tom, help me, the patient is conscious but weak, she is also gasping. She is eight months pregnant. We're taking her to the hospital.
