Britain's Favorite Dish

A new survey _____ed today that Chinese stir-fry has now _____d chicken tikka masala as Britain's favorite dish.

The simplistic Chinese dish, usually prepared with fresh vegetables and noodles _____ the Indian dish to become the most frequently cooked meal in the UK.

overtook	replace	reveal

According to the survey, one in five Brits now have stir-fry at least once a week. Most _____s stated that they liked the dish because it is cheap, _____, tasty and easy to prepare, with the average stir-fry taking a few minutes to throw together and cook in a _____.

nutritious	wok	respondent

Over the last few years, Asian cuisine has become increasingly popular in the UK. It's now a part of the nation's _____diet, with nine out of ten Brits reporting that their favorite international meals are Asian.

More than 2000 Brits were asked about their eating habits in the survey carried out by the Food Network UK. Over a _____ of Brits now eat more Chinese, Thai and Japanese _____ than they did ten years ago. The survey suggests that this trend should continue as parents are reporting that their children are more _____ when it comes to trying new foods.

staple	adventurous	quarter	cuisine

Jimmy Dalziel, spokesperson for the Food Network said, "Our research shows that British people are starting to _____ more _____ flavors. British people also seem to be getting bored with many traditional British dishes such as _____ pie, sausages and _____ and fish and chips. Foods like Thai Green Curry – which would have been considered exotic a decade ago – is now considered a normal part of a British diet."

exotic	mash	appreciate	cottage

LIVEWORKSHEETS