

Error Correction – Narcissism

Posting too many (0) selfie may cause a rise in narcissism, say researchers. Narcissism is selfishness that makes you believe you are very (1) talent and beautiful. It also means you need attention (2) at others while believing that you are better than everyone. Researchers say people who used social media sites a lot (3) shows a sharp rise in narcissism. They studied people who used social media (4) or looked at how (5) our personalities changed. They found that posting selfies seemed to (6) increased levels of narcissism in a way that text messages do not. The research added that one in five people are at risk of developing narcissism. They (7) frequent want attention and 'likes' after they post a selfie. They also want to show others how their life is better or how they are (8) most attractive.	0 selfies
	1 _____
	2 _____
	3 _____
	4 _____
	5 _____
	6 _____
	7 _____
	8 _____

Error Correction – Technology

Technology is a double-edged sword. On the one hand, it has (0) improve our lives. For example, the information technology sector has turned (1) a world into a global village. Today, people can (2) communicating with one another almost instantly using the internet. People use a variety of (3) gadget such as smartphones, laptops, tablets and computers to send messages, to chat with friends and to (4) buying products online. Furthermore, this innovation has made it possible for people to get information on any topic from anywhere (5) in any time. So, it has provided people with easier and quick ways to solve problems. On the other hand, technology has also caused many societal problems. Using social media for communication does not (6) requires people to meet face-to-face. As a result, they (7) loose their social skills. Too much online activities causes people to have (8) difficult in sleeping. The glow from the screen affects the release of a type of hormone that controls our natural sleep cycle.	0 improved
	1 _____
	2 _____
	3 _____
	4 _____
	5 _____
	6 _____
	7 _____
	8 _____