Music is my first _____. In fact, I'd say it's time-consuming passion as I _____ much longer playing the synthesizer or the guitar than _____ for my classes. I have always dreamed of becoming a good performer, either as a band player or playing _____. My parents wanted me to study classical _____, as a very good girl should do, but from my teens on I followed my real _____, which is playing lighter music and improvising.

Fortunately, since I went to the university, I've been able to fulfill part of my dream. I met three _____ as crazy about music as me and we began playing in the garage of my house. My mum was horrified at the idea of having to put with heavy metal or rock _____at home, but the music we play sounds much softer than that and to my surprise she soon got used to it.

Next year we're going to try and _____a single or a CD. For the time being we feel quite happy just to perform in _____ and pubs.

Sometimes we are hired for _____and it's great fun because besides playing for _____ people, we can get involved in the party and eat superbly.
