Classification Levels of Living Things

In yesterday's lesson, we learned the 7 different levels used by scientists to classify organisms. Your task for today is to choose your favorite animal and write down its specific category in each of the following levels. After doing so, you should be able to get the scientific name of your animal. Don't forget to share with us one new fact you have learned about this animal while doing your research.

You can write on google: the levels of classification of "choose an animal you want"

Names:

Levels of Classification

Kingdom

Phylum

Class

Order

Family

Genus

Species

My animal's scientific name is:

Interesting fact about my animal:

LIVEWORKSHEETS