Choose the correct words.

Int :	So, you're a probation officer in the UK criminal system, aren't you?
Ann :	Yes, that's right. I work with people who have either broken the law, but a prison sentence, or people who go to prison, but who are out now.
Int :	It be quite a difficult job. Working with criminals be easy! What kind of things do?
Ann :	Well, I often to write reports, for example, when I think a criminal be dangerous, or if I think they break the law again. I also make sure that the criminal does what the judge has said they do. For example, sometimes criminals do community service. They actually do the work they have been told to do.
Int :	go to university to get this job?
Ann :	No, I have gone to university, but I did. Then I train to become a probation services officer, or a PSO as they are called.
