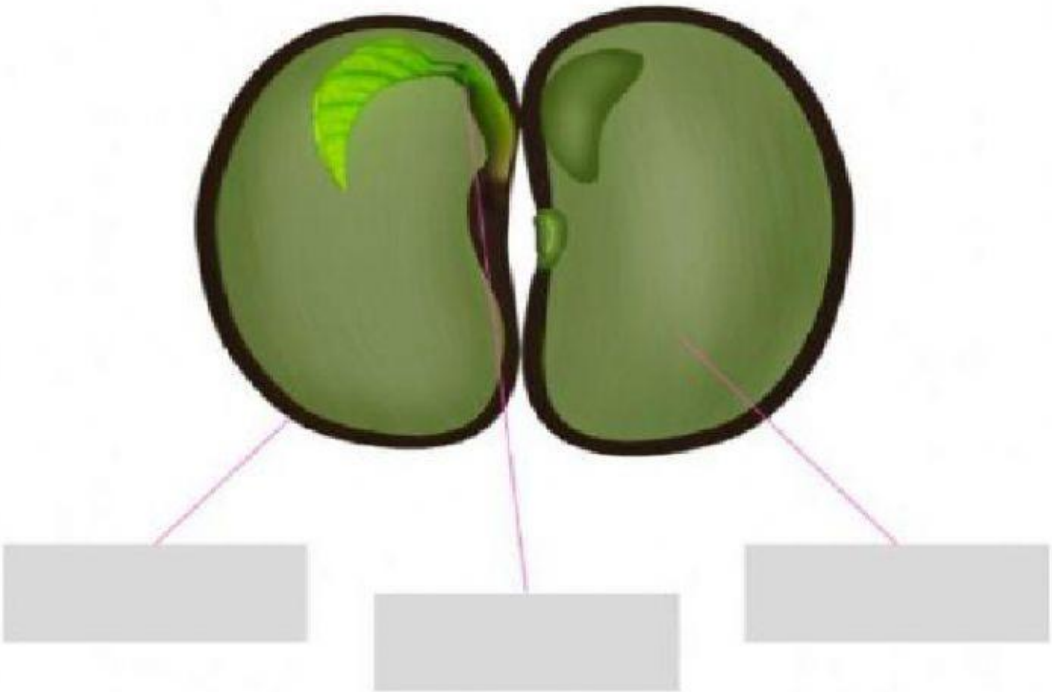
Parts of a Seed

cotyledon | embryo | seed coat



Choose the correct option according to the description.

I am the "baby plant." I contain the parts that will become the plant's roots, stem, and leaves. I am the:

I protect the seed from injury and from drying out. I am the:

I surround the baby plant and I am its source of food, especially in monocots. I am the:

LIVEWORKSHEETS