Read this email from Jake and answer all the questions.

Dear Ted,

How are you? I am staying with my grandmother for the weekend. I am staying at her house in a village in the mountains. My sister didn't come with me because she has a lot of homework to do. She is at home with my mum.

The village is beautiful. There are a lot of cafés and a pretty river, but there is only one shop. There is a farm close to my grandmother's house. There are sheep, goats and ducks, but my favourite are the donkeys. They are very friendly. My grandmother has two cats at home. They are wonderful pets.

What are you doing next weekend?

See you soon,

Jake

Read the passage and answer the questions. There is one example.

Anna works every day, from Monday to Friday. Last weekend, she wanted to buy a jacket for her camping holiday. On Saturday morning, she went to the shopping centre. She didn't buy a jacket because it was expensive. She didn't like the shorts or swimming costumes. She bought a pair of sunglasses. At 11 o'clock she bought a cake and a coffee because she was hungry. In the afternoon Anna was tired, so she went home.

On Sunday, Anna had breakfast with her family. Her children had cheese and fruit but Anna and her husband had eggs. In the afternoon, her children went to the park with Anna's husband. Anna went to see her best friend Betty. They went to the café near the library. It was sunny but cold, so they had hot chocolate.
