It comes from the Mochica culture, it has a length of 4 to 5 meters, a width of 60 cm to 1 m and its weight varies between 47 and 50 kg and can support 200 kg of load. Its cost is very low because they grow in ponds. It is designed to carry one person. This ancient object is important because people can easily fish in the sea and get a large number of fish since it can carry 200 kg. For 3000 years its design has not changed. The Mochica already used it around the year 200 AD. and it is currently used by Bolivians and Peruvians.
