Present Simple Passive

is/ are + the past participle (3. stupac/-ed)

The panda is endangered by the disappearance of bamboo.

Rhinos are killed for sport.

Other animals eat sea turtles. ACTIVE

Sea turtles are eaten by other animals. PASSIVE

vršitelj radnje

Objekt aktivne (sea turtles) postao je subjekt pasivne rečenice (sea turtles).

1 Complete the sentences with the present passive of the verbs below.

are worn is sung is eaten is made is held is celebrated is believed are played

1 Auld Lang Syne_____once a year on New Year's Eve.

2 In Ireland St Patrick's Day _____on March 17.

3 Kilts _____and bagpipes _____during the Highlands Games in Scotland, a traditional sporting event that _____every year.

4 Haggis is a traditional dish that _____in Scotland. It _____of meat, onion, flour, salt and pepper.

5 In England it _____that a black cat crossing the road brings good luck.

2 Complete the text with the present passive.

A film story _____usually_____(write) by a script writer. Later, the script _____(break down) into a more detailed shooting script. The shooting _____carefully _____(plan), actors _____ _____(choose) and the sets and costumes _____ _____(design).The film ____ _____(shoot) under the supervision of the director. Much more material ____ _____(film) than ___ ____(need) for a film. Just 10% of the filmed material ____

LIVEWORKSHEETS

_____(use) in the final version of the film. Some special effects _____ _____ (add) later. A lot of them _____ _____(make) with the help of a computer.

LIVEWORKSHEETS