Date: <input type="text"/>

Objective: At the end of the class students will be able to plan an activity to teach a hello song to kids applying their knowledge about it with the correct use of the language.

Activity 1

Read the text and answer

Teaching a song to preschoolers

Before you can teach a song, you as the leader must know it. Listen to it over and over until you can sing the song spontaneously. As leader, you want to enjoy yourself as enthusiasm spreads! Even if you don't have musical talent, you can teach a new song!

Provide opportunities for the boys and girls to hear the song before singing. The music can be playing in the background as children arrive, while engaging in craft activities, and also during snack time.

Children learn a song by hearing it many times, as memorization occurs via repetition. Knowing a song by heart, so the melody and lyrics will stay with children forever, is the goal.

Before actually singing the song together, ask questions. Be sure boys and girls know the song's meaning and also the significance of unfamiliar words.

1.What do you have to do before to teach a song?

2.How can provide opportunities to hear the song before singing?

3.What is the key for children to learn a song?

4.Name the two things necessary for kids to before sing a song?

Activity 2

Planning my activity

According to the steps and uses of the “hello song” make the following activities.

1. Choose a level to work with (medio menor, medio mayor, pre-kinder o Kinder)

2. Look for a hello song in internet and choose one for the level indicating the name and link.

3. Write in Spanish the steps to teach the song you choose.
