

STRUCTURE OF FLOWERS

1. The main function of a flower is

- A. to make food
- B. to reproduce
- C. to catch insects
- D. to attract insects

2. What is the main function of sepals in a flower?

- A. To protect the flower during bud stage.
- B. To prevent insects from entering the flower.
- C. To make the flower more colourful and attractive.
- D. To produce scents for attracting insects

3. The male part of the flower consists of

- A. anther
- B. stigma
- C. anther and filament.
- D. stigma and filament.

4. Drag the following words in with the correct boxes:

Anther, Filament, Ovary, Petal, Sepal, Stigma, Style

