Instructions: For each of the key ideas listed below, find a corresponding quote that illustrates that idea. Make your selections by dragging and dropping the quote underneath the corresponding idea.

Grieving alone intensifies the anguish of loss	Collective mourning facilitates healing	Institutionalized racism limits life opportunities	Ethnocentrism at the heart of racial prejudice

Linking Key Ideas with Textual Evidence

The centenarian slave would "lie there and listen to the others breathe, snore, cry out, whimper... grind their teeth... or just plain die with a gasp."

They are "blessed with lesser faculties" and are "simply not like us"

"Sometimes you felt like crying, and sometimes the joy of being there was enough to forget, even for the briefest moment".

"I went to try on a dress and the shop assistant escorts to the 'special' dressing room, the one equipped with video cameras"