ALICE'S ADVENTURES IN WONDERLAND

Lewis Carroll wrote "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland" in 1865. It's the story of a girl 98 follows a rabbit and has some amazing adventures. Below is a passage from the book.

Alice is sitting with her sister near a river. So she was considering in her own mind (as well as she could, for the day made her feel very sleepy and stupid), whether the pleasure of 99 a daisy-chain would be worth the trouble of getting up and picking the daisies, when suddenly a White Rabbit with pink eyes ran close by her.

There was nothing so very remarkable in that, nor did Alice think it so very much out of the way to hear the Rabbit say to itself, "Oh dear! Oh dear! I shall be too late!" But when the Rabbit 100 took a watch out of its waistcoat-pocket and looked at it and then hurried on, Alice started to her feet, for it flashed across her mind that she had never before seen a rabbit with either a waistcoatpocket, or a watch to take out of it, and, burning with curiosity, she ran across the field after it and was just (101) time to see it pop down a large rabbit-hole, under the hedge. In another moment, down went Alice after it.

HUCK FINN FROM THE ADVENTURES OF TOM SAWYER

Huckleberry was cordially hated and dreaded (102) all the mothers of the town, because he was idle and lawless and vulgar and bad–and because all their children admired (103) so, and delighted in his forbidden society, and wished they dared to be like him. Tom was like the rest of the respectable boys, in that he envied Huckleberry his gaudy outcast condition, and was under strict orders not to play with him. So he (104) with him every time he got a chance. Huckleberry was always dressed in the cast-off clothes of full-grown men, and they were in perennial bloom and fluttering with rags. His hat was a vast ruin with a wide crescent lopped out of its brim; his coat, when (105) wore one, hung nearly to his heels and had the rearward buttons far down the back; but one suspender supported his trousers; the seat of the trousers bagged low and contained nothing, the fringed legs dragged in the dirt when not rolled up. Huckleberry came and went, of his own free will. He slept on doorsteps in fine weather and in empty hogsheads in wet; he did not have to go to school or to church, or call any being master or obey anybody; he could go fishing or swimming when and where he chose, and stay as long (106) it suited him; nobody forbade him to fight; he could sit up as late as he pleased; he was always the first boy that went barefoot in the spring and the last to resume leather in the fall; he never had to wash, nor put on clean clothes; he could swear wonderfully. In a word, everything that goes to make life precious that boy had. So thought every harassed, hampered, respectable boy (107) St. Petersburg.

FEATHERS

The BBC is reporting that Harry Potter is affecting the number of wild owls in India. One of the reasons that owls are being trapped and sold as pets is that parents are buying them as gifts for their kids who are fans of the fictional wizard. As you may already know, Harry has his own pet owl, Hedwig.

Hedwig was Harry Potter's pet Snowy Owl (Bubo scandiacus). In August 1991, Hedwig was purchased from Eeylops Owl Emporium and was gifted to Harry from Rubeus Hagrid on his eleventh birthday. Owls are used by wizards to deliver mail, but Hedwig was also an important companion as Harry was initiated into the wizarding world. "Argh!" Amber exclaimed as she pulled off her sweater and threw it into a multicolored pile of clothes. She walked into her closet and swept her hand rapidly through the rows of hanging clothes, her face reflecting her dissatisfaction. She took a silver dress. She held it up to the mirror against her body for a moment, sighed, and then put on a dress, but as soon as she looked herself in the mirror she knew that was not the dress she wanted for that night, so she thought in another dress. That beautiful red dress her mom gave her for her birthday. She was about to tried it on but then she remembered that dress was a present when she was thinner, so she took another dress. A purple dress she bought a month ago for her sister's wedding. She looked herself into the mirror, and then with a disappointment face she knew that wasn't the dress but she heard her mother's voice through the door, "Amber, Scott's here. Are you almost ready?" Amber yelled, "OK, just tell him I'll be down in two minutes!" She put on the purple dress and now she had to choose the perfect shoes and she knew it was going to be another problem for her.

Finally after 20 minutes, Amber came down the stairs. Scott didn't know what to say. He was speechless. He had never seen her like that. The dress, the shoes, the makeup, her hair, everything was perfect. She was a queen. The only thing he could do was to be her king. The same way he was her king two years ago when she was dressed as a princess when he met her.

117. What was Amber upset?

A. Because she didn't have enough clothes.
B. Because Scott was already there.
C. Because she couldn't find a dress she liked.
D. Because Scott had arrived too early.

118. Amber didn't try the red dress because:

A. She didn't like the dress.
B. The dress was ugly.
C. The dress didn't fit her anymore.
D. She didn't buy that dress.

119. Amber finally put on the purple dress because:

A. Scott liked that dress.
B. Her sister gave her that dress.
C. She didn't have more dresses.
D. Scott was already there.

120. Scott waited for 20 minutes because:

A. Amber hasn't chosen a dress.
B. Amber was going to change that dress.
C. Amber had to choose her shoes.
D. Amber had to choose her earrings.

121. Scott was impressed when he saw Amber because:

A. She had taken too much time.
B. She had chosen the perfect dress and shoes.
C. She had been always a queen.
D. She had never dressed like that.

122. Based on the text, it is possible to say that Amber was getting ready

A. for school.
B. to go out on a date.
C. for work.
D. to go to bed.

ARE THE SPIDERS INSECTS?

Spiders are not insects! They are (123) arachnids - invertebrates (animals without backbones) that have eight legs and which inject venom. Spiders are (124) on every continent except Antarctica. There are over 44,000 known kinds (125) spiders. Spiders are found in every kind of habitat and are often found in homes! Spiders are unique among animals in that many spin webs out of silk. The webs trap insects and other prey to be (126) later. Larger spiders, such as wolf spiders, huntsman, and tarantulas attack prey (127) than spin webs. One spider that was recently (128) even flings itself at prey like a slingshot! Most spiders eat insects, but tarantulas and larger spiders will eat small lizards and mammals as (129). Many people fear spiders. In fact, a fear of spiders has (130) own name: Arachnophobia! Most spiders, however, are totally harmless to humans and are actually (131) because they eat insect pests. Even the largest tarantula in (132), the Goliath Bird-eating Tarantula is harmless to humans. A tarantula bite is (133) to be about as painful as a bee sting. Some spiders, however, such as the Black Widow Spider, are dangerous to humans. Bites from these spiders usually (134) immediate medical attention.
