Read the story and draw your own interpretation of the man described in the newspaper accounts. On the lines at the bottom write a sentence to describe your man and give him a name.