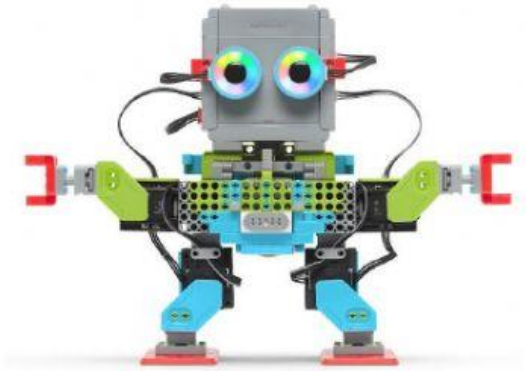
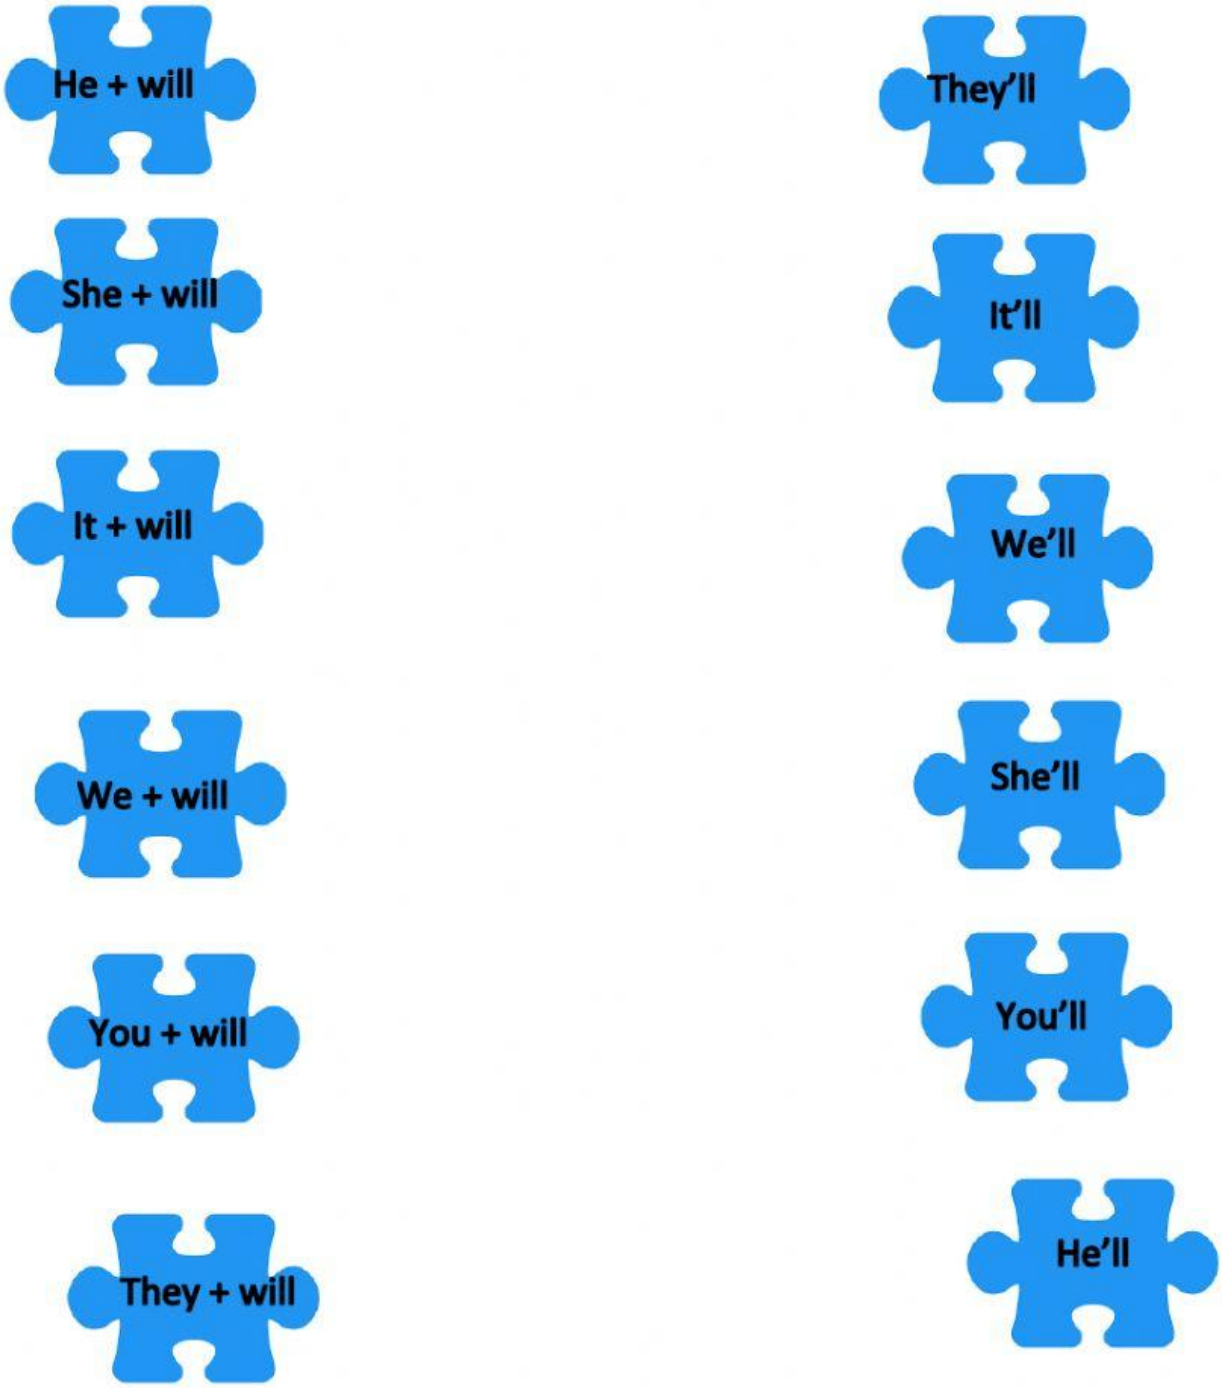
1. This is Shandy, a robot that is in New York right now. She has to introduce herself to some friends. Write at least five sentences about what she would say (physical appearance, likes/dislikes, things she has, things she can do) Do not forget to use "I can", "I have got", "I like", "I don't like", "I am"...



2. Shandy will work in a special office since now on. Look at it and describe it using "there is" and "there are". Write at least three sentences of each.

3. Shandy is learning contractions in the school but she is at sixes and sevens. Help her to match the correct pieces of the puzzle.



4. Shandy wants to go to an amusement park. Write two sentences saying the things she will do and two for the things she won't. Do not repeat the actions.

5. Shandy wants to build a house. To do that she has to compare between different things to finally decide what to buy. Use these adjectives to compare the objects. Write sentences like "the ..... on the left is ..... the..... on the right"

6. Shandy is learning English at school but she has made some mistakes in a composition. Rewrite it in a proper way.

My name is Shandy. I prefer summer because it is hoter than winter. It is shinyer as well. In winter it is rainyer too. I have got two friends: Ken and Lisa. Lisa goes to the gym everyday so she is fiter than Ken. Ken is always eating fast food so he is fater than Lisa. I think Maths is easyer than Language. I am robot so I am very good at calculations. Bye, bye friends!
