

Unit 6B

1. Complete the sentences with these verbs.

call - come - give - pay - send - go - take

Ex.: A: Jack phoned while you were out.

B: Thanks. I'll call him back later.

a) A: Peter, you forgot your keys at school.
B: Oh no! I'll have to _____ back for them.

b) A: Do you want to borrow some money?
B: Yes, I'll _____ you back next week.

c) A: You want to see Ann, but she isn't here, she's at lunch. – B: That's ok. I'll _____ back later.

d) A: It's a really nice top, but it doesn't fit me.
B: Don't worry. I'll _____ it back to the store and change it.

e) A: Have you finished that book I lent you?
B: Yes. I'll _____ it back to you tomorrow.

f) A: The TV you bought on the internet isn't working.
B: Really? I'll _____ back, then.

2. Write sentences with will / won't.

Ex.: you / think / it / snow tonight?

Do you think it will snow tonight?

a) we / miss / the plane ?

b) she / not pass / the driving test.

c) I / think / Sarah / get engaged soon.

d) Mark / come / to the party?

e) she / not get / the job.

f) Thomas / help / you / with the bags.

g) I / sure / I / not enjoy / Ben's party.

3. Match the sentences.

- a) Someone left the door open.
- b) It's dark in here.
- c) Remember to meet me tomorrow.
- d) It's a secret.
- e) I don't feel very well.
- f) These clothes are dirty.

() I'll turn on the lights.

() I'll wash them.

() I won't forget.

(a) I'll close it.

() I'll take you to the doctor.

() I won't tell anyone.

4. Read the texts and choose the alternative that agrees best with the meaning of the texts.

a) Time is money

Crossing the North Pole will become as routinely as crossing the Atlantic when Russia opens its Arctic airspace to foreign flights, resulting in dramatic savings in time and money for travelers from Europe and North America to Asia.

() This is about new Russian flights between Europe, North America and Asia.

() It's about dramatic saving flights across the North Pole.

() The paragraph is about regular inexpensive air traffic across the Atlantic.

() The text is about new routes for international air travelers.

b) Air quality

All new petrol and diesel cars and vans will have their exhaust emissions cut by half in 18 months in an attempt to improve city air quality following a new European directive on the quality of petrol and diesel fuels.

() In 18 months, European cities must cut pollution by half.

() The number of cars and vans in European cities will be reduced.

() In the future, people in European cities will hopefully breathe cleaner air.

() A new European directive has become the air in the cities cleaner.