Hang has two simple past forms with a change in meaning.

Hung is used when we are not talking about someone sentenced by law to die by hanging.

Hanged is used when we are talking about someone who by law is to be executed by hanging.

Lay is easily confused, because it is also the simple past form of Lie (Irregular).

Lie is another confusing verb. Lie can be irregular or regular with a difference in meaning.

Lie (Irregular) refers to the horizontal position to sleep whether on a bed or on the floor.

Lie (Regular) means not to tell truth.
