EDITH PIAF

(1915 – 1963)

She was born Édith Giovanna Gassion and got the nickname " a little sparrow" She was a French singer-songwriter, cabaret performer and film actress. She specialized in chanson and torch ballads about love, loss and sorrow.

Edith Piaf was one of the most popular French singers of the 1940s and '1950s, internationally famous for her husky, mournful voice and songs of loneliness and despair. Born in Paris to street entertainers, her childhood was filled with poverty, illness and temporary blindness.

The anguish in her songs reflected the struggle in her personal life. Furthermore, Piaf had several ill-fated love affairs, including one with middleweight boxing champ Marcel Cerdan, who died in an aeroplane crash in 1949 and after a car accident in 1951, she became dependent on alcohol and morphine. Her songs include "Les Trois Cloches" ("The Three Bells"), "Vagabond" and "Milord."
