What is refraction?

SANTILLANA

Complete the sentences about refraction by writing the correct words in the spaces.

Refraction happens when light passes from one material to another material with a different _____.

Refraction can be observed when light passes from _____ to water at an angle. This is because water is _____ than air.

_____ refract light. They can be convex or _____.

Both types of lenses are used for making glasses, binoculars, _____, microscopes and cameras.

denser telescopes density concave Lenses air

