Exclamatory Sentence

Grammar

Read the comic strip below.

USE IT RIGHT

- An exclamatory sentence is a type of sentence which expresses strong emotions or feelings such as anger, surprise, happiness, excitement, etc.

  e.g. Go away, you thief!
  I'll teach that monkey a lesson!

- It ends with an exclamation mark (!).

Rearrange the words below to form exclamatory sentences.

1. won first I the prize hurray,
2. it you congratulations, deserve
3. to prize collect tomorrow I'm the going
4. a won television I huge
5. to we're Ligoland going
6. a idea what marvellous
7. going great, in I'm an aeroplane
8. very yes, happy and I'm excited

You can click on the dialogue to listen. We will discuss about it during next lesson.