
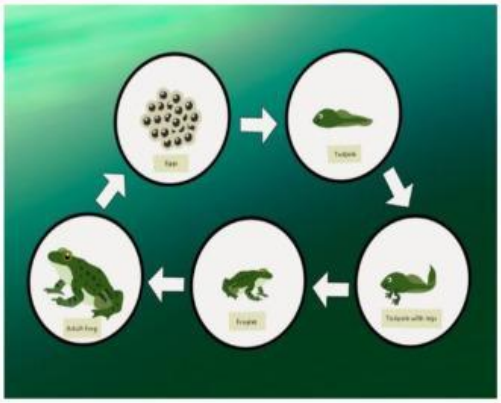
Tad and Polly

Tad and Polly are tadpoles. Tadpoles are baby frogs. They hatch from eggs. Tadpoles have long tails so they can swim. Tad and Polly like to play in the pond. Tad and Polly have fun! One day, Tad grows back legs. He grows front legs. Next, Polly grows front and back legs. They are now froglets. Tad gets bigger. His tail gets smaller. Polly gets bigger. Her tail gets smaller. Finally, Tad and Polly are frogs. Now, they can hop on land!

Read the passage and answer the questions below by drawing a line to connect to the answer or by typing your answer below the question.

- Where are the eggs?
- Where is the tadpole?
- Where is the word "frogs" in the passage?
- Where is the phrase "hop on land?"
- What happens to Tad and Polly when they become froglets?

LIVEWORKSHEETS



Tad and Polly

Tad and Polly are tadpoles. Tadpoles are baby frogs. They hatch from eggs. Tadpoles have long tails so they can swim. Tad and Polly like to play in the pond. Tad and Polly have fun! One day, Tad grows back legs. He grows front legs. Next, Polly grows front and back legs. They are now froglets. Tad gets bigger. His tail gets smaller. Polly gets bigger. Her tail gets smaller. Finally, Tad and Polly are frogs. Now, they can hop on land!

What are tadpoles?

Who does Tad play with?

Where do Tad and Polly play?

Why do tadpoles have long tails?

How do Tad and Polly change?

LIVEWORKSHEETS