2. Back in the past
3. You should not worry
4. Restrictions
5. National colour
6. Put on warm clothes
7. Meal inclusive
8. Journey in the sky

- A. If you've never tried while water rafting before, this is a great place to start. Once your instructor has briefed you, prepare to get soaked on this wet and wild adventure. You'll head through the rainforest, battling rushing rapids and conquering obstacles as you go. If adrenaline-pumping action tops your wish list, don't miss this one. This excursion is not recommended for pregnant women or for those with severe physical disabilities. Children over 14 years old may participate under the responsibility and direct supervision of a responsible parent or a family member.
- B. Discover Majorca on a journey through its amazing Tramuntana mountains. Stop at hidden villages, quaint towns and beautiful ports. The quaint village of Soller is perfect for relaxing and soaking up the local atmosphere. Explore the cobbled streets or sit in the pretty square and be absorbed into typical Spanish life. The highlight of the day is the Orange Blossom Express, which chugs its way through orange and lemon groves and pine-clad mountains.
- C. Ephesus is one of the Turkey's must-sees. Set in hills above the coast, it's one of the world's best-preserved Roman cities. So, visiting it is like being thrown back in time. Check out Hadrian's Temple and the Great Theatre. This acoustically perfect amphitheatre is where St. Paul preached and it's still used for performances today. Then it's on to the House of the Virgin Mary. The legend says that Mary settled in Ephesus around 37 AD, spending her last years in a house here. It's now long gone, but a chapel marks the spot.
- D. If you ever fancied trying scuba diving, here's your chance. It's a half-day course that lets you enjoy diving with experienced instructors. First, we'll pick you up from your hotel for an introductory briefing. Then it's time to practice breathing under water on a fun training dive. Once you feel at home with everything, it's on to a proper shore dive around a shallow reef, so you can view the exotic fish and beautiful corals that make the Red Sea such a diving mecca. There's no need for nerves either — your instructor will accompany you at all times, talking you through everything and showing you the marine life.
- E. The ancient region of Anatolia makes up most of central Turkey and its folklore has shaped much of the country's wider culture and customs. And this world-famous show tells you the story of its past through the medium of dance. Ballet and acrobatic modern dance acts all backed by swirling Turkish music and drumming. Add dazzling lighting and costumes and you've got yourself a show you'll never forget. Look out especially for the fastest dances. 'Fire of Anatolia' holds the world record for performing the most dance steps in one minute — 241 to be precise.
- F. If you're craving a real adventure, this half-day quad bike safari is right up your street. We'll take you to a ranch where your convoy of rugged quads is waiting. Put on your helmet and gloves, let an expert show you the ropes and settle into the saddle of your very own bike. You'll then snake your way around golden dunes and barren foothills in a group on your way to the stunning 'Mountain of Gold'. At the Bedouin tent, you'll stop for a barbecue lunch.
- G. Here's your chance — a thrilling 10-minute helicopter tour that lets you see its southern shores in all their glory, from above. As your pilot makes final checks with the control tower, you'll shiver with excitement as your safe and comfy copter whirrs high into the air. You'll fly first to Degollada Las Yeguas for views over the breathtaking Fataga valley. Then hold your breath as you bank south to trace the coast. Gaze at the golden beaches and hotels of Playa del Ingles laid out like Lego.

Halley's Comet or Comet Halley is the best-known A _____, and is visible from Earth every 75 or 76 years. Halley is the only short-period comet that is clearly visible to the naked eye from Earth, and thus the only naked-eye comet that B _____. Halley's returns to the inner Solar System have been observed by astronomers C _____, and recorded by Chinese, Babylonian and medieval European chroniclers, but were not recognized as reappearances of the same object. The comet's periodicity was first determined in 1705 by English astronomer Edmond Halley, after whom it is now named. Halley's Comet last appeared in the inner Solar System in 1986 and D _____.

During its 1986 apparition, Halley's Comet became the first to be observed in detail by spacecraft, providing the first observational data on the structure of a comet nucleus and the mechanism E _____. These observations supported a number of longstanding hypotheses about comet construction, particularly Fred Whipple's «dirty snowball» model, which correctly surmised that Halley would be composed of a mixture of volatile ices — such as water, carbon dioxide and ammonia — and dust. However, the missions also provided data F _____, for instance, it is now understood that Halley's surface is largely composed of dusty, non-volatile materials, and that only a small portion of it is icy.

1. of the short-period comets
2. might appear twice in a human lifetime
3. will next appear in mid-2061
4. since at least 240 BC
5. of coma and tail formation
6. may be brighter and more spectacular

The Flight

«Second to the right, and straight on till morning. »

That, Peter had told Wendy, was the way to the Neverland; but even birds, carrying maps and consulting them at windy corners, could not have sighted it with these instructions. Peter, you see, just said anything that came into his head.

At first his companions trusted him implicitly, and so great were the delights of flying that they wasted time circling round church spires or any other tall objects on the way that took their fancy.

John and Michael raced, Michael getting a start. They recalled with contempt that not so long ago they had thought themselves fine fellows for being able to fly round a room.

Not long ago. But how long ago? They were flying over the sea before this thought began to disturb Wendy seriously. John thought it was their second sea and their third night.

Sometimes it was dark and sometimes light, and now they were very cold and again too warm. Did they really feel hungry at times, or were they merely pretending, because Peter had such a jolly new way of feeding them? His way was to pursue birds who had food in their mouths suitable for humans and snatch it from them; then the birds would follow and snatch it back; and they would all go chasing each other gaily for miles, parting at last with mutual expressions of good-will. But Wendy noticed with gentle concern that Peter did not seem to know that this was rather an odd way of getting your bread and butter, nor even that there are other ways.

Certainly, they did not pretend to be sleepy, they were sleepy; and that was a danger, for the moment they popped off, down they fell. The awful thing was that Peter thought this funny.

«There he goes again! » he would cry gleefully, as Michael suddenly dropped like a stone.

«Save him, save him! » cried Wendy, looking with horror at the cruel sea far below. Eventually Peter would dive through the air, and catch Michael just before he could strike the sea, and it was lovely the way he did it; but he always waited till the last moment, and you felt it was his cleverness that interested him and not the saving of human life.

Peter could sleep in the air without falling, by merely lying on his back and floating, but this was, partly at least, because he was so light that if you got behind him and blew, he went faster.

So after many moons they did reach the Neverland, and, what is more, they had been going pretty straight all the time, not perhaps so much owing to the guidance of Peter or Tink as because the island was looking for them. It is only thus that any one may sight those magic shores.

Wendy and John and Michael stood on tip-toe in the air to get their first sight of the island. Strange to say, they all recognized it at once, and until fear fell upon them, they greeted it, not as something long dreamt of and seen at last, but as a familiar friend to whom they were returning home for the holidays.

«John, there's the lagoon. »

«Wendy, look at the turtles burying their eggs in the sand. »

«I say, John, I see your flamingo with the broken leg! »

«Look, Michael, there's your cave! »

«John, what's that in the brushwood? »

Peter was a little annoyed with them for knowing so much, but if he wanted to lord it over them his triumph was at hand, for have I not told you that fear fell upon them?
