'OK,' he said. 'No more dancing today. You can all go to bed.'

Then Pinocchio did something brave. 'Let him go!' he cried. 'Put that old puppet down!'

'But, Dad. I need a writing book!' said Pinocchio. I can't go to school without a writing book.'

inside, and then he came back to the window and poured a bucket of water all over Pinocchio.

'Pinocchio! Look up!' There was a green cricket on the wall, and it had very bright eyes.

'Come back, Puppet Boy!' shouted Gepetto.

The little puppet was having a good time so he didn't listen. He just ran. But Gepetto loved his son and so he ran after him.

Once there was an old man called Gepetto. He was poor and he lived alone in a small town near the sea.
