

Name: _____ Date: _____

A house-shaped worksheet for the number 70. The top of the house has three circles containing the numbers 7, 10, and 70. The body of the house contains four rows of boxes for multiplication and division problems. Each row consists of a box, a multiplication or division symbol, a box, an equals sign, and a box. The first two rows are for multiplication, and the last two rows are for division.

	$\times$		$=$
	$\times$		$=$
	$\div$		$=$
	$\div$		$=$

A house-shaped worksheet for the number 12. The top of the house has three circles containing the numbers 2, 6, and 12. The body of the house contains four rows of boxes for multiplication and division problems, similar to the first house.

	$\times$		$=$
	$\times$		$=$
	$\div$		$=$
	$\div$		$=$

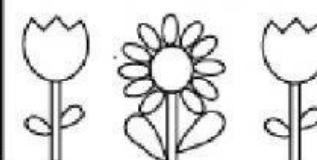

A house-shaped worksheet for the number 45. The top of the house has three circles containing the numbers 5, 9, and 45. The body of the house contains four rows of boxes for multiplication and division problems, similar to the first house.

	$\times$		$=$
	$\times$		$=$
	$\div$		$=$
	$\div$		$=$

A house-shaped worksheet for the number 32. The top of the house has three circles containing the numbers 8, 4, and 32. The body of the house contains four rows of boxes for multiplication and division problems, similar to the first house.

	$\times$		$=$
	$\times$		$=$
	$\div$		$=$
	$\div$		$=$

UNDERSTANDS AND APPLIES BASIC PROPERTIES RELATED TO NUMBERS