5 Read the article about Beverly Hills, a wealthy area in California, USA. Write the missing words (1–9). Use only one word in each gap.

Beverly Hills is just a few minutes' drive from the centre of Hollywood and is [1]_____ of the wealthiest neighbourhoods in the USA. It's filled with rich and famous people and, if you visit, you'll find glamour and luxury. You're [2]_____ likely to see limousines and Ferraris parked outside the houses here than [3]_____ else in the world.

Although its name suggests a hilly landscape, Beverly Hills is a relatively flat area south [4]_____ Sunset Boulevard. For the more exclusive neighbourhoods, you need [5]_____ go further north, while the city's most spectacular mansions are far away in the hills.

Most people [6]_____ visit Beverly Hills want to see a Hollywood star or any other celebrity. The problem is, if you start wandering around the residential areas [7]_____ foot, you're likely to be stopped [8]_____ a police officer to find out what you're doing there. It's probably better to book a place on an organized tour. You'll be driven down the avenues, stopping at the gates of the most famous homes – but I'm afraid that's about as far [9]_____ you'll get.
