From worksheet author:

A. Complete the blanks whith a modal of deduction. The context will help to determine the correct modal: (must, may, might, could, can't)

1. The lights are off, and no one's answering the door. They _____ be out of the house.
2. He _____ be at the office; his car is parked outside.
3. Sarah is very good at mathematics, so this problem _____ be difficult for her.
4. I heard some strange noises coming from the attic. It _____ be the wind, but I'm not sure.
5. This package is very heavy. It _____ contain something fragile.
6. John looks exhausted today. He _____ have stayed up late last night.
7. The train is always on time, so it _____ be late today.
8. You _____ want to double-check your answers before submitting the test.
9. They _____ have left already; the meeting isn't until an hour from now.
10. With those dark clouds, it _____ start raining soon.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

B. The correct past tense modal of deduction should be chosen: (must have, may have, could hace, might have, can't have)

1. The kitchen is a mess. The kids ___ been playing in here.
2. She didn't answer my calls all day. She ___ been busy with something important.
3. The road was wet this morning. It ___ rained last night.
4. I can't find my keys anywhere. I ___ left them at work.
5. He looks so happy today. He ___ received good news.
6. There was no cake left by the time I arrived. It ___ been really delicious.
7. They ___ forgotten about the meeting; they didn't show up.
8. You ___ seen them at the party yesterday; they were definitely there.
9. The door was open when I got home. Someone ___ been inside.
10. She ___ have known about the surprise; she seemed genuinely shocked.

LIVEWORKSHEETS