The Stormy Adventure

Last weekend, Tom and his family went on a trip to the mountains. In the morning, the weather was lovely. It was warm, and the sky was clear. Tom's parents had an idea to go for a walk in the forest. They packed some food and water, and they went home later in the afternoon.

However, while they were walking, the weather suddenly changed. It started to rain, and then it was pouring down. Tom and his family saw a helicopter flying in the sky. "Maybe someone is lost," said Tom's dad. The phone signal was gone, so they couldn't check the weather.

Soon, it was freezing and foggy. Tom's mom stayed positive and said, "Don't worry, we will find a place to stay warm." They finally found a big rock where they could sit and wait for the rain to stop. After a few hours, the rain stopped and a beautiful rainbow appeared in the sky. They decided it was time to go home.

When they arrived home, Tom said, "That was an exciting adventure!" His mom smiled and said, "Yes, we survived a storm!"
