Traits are the characteristics or qualities that make a person special. Physical traits that make a person unique are: hair color, skin color, eye color, height, body size, sex (male or female) or disabilities.

Other traits that make a person unique are where we live, the way we speak (Bahamian dialect), the food we eat, the way we dress and the way we live. All these things make us one of a kind.

Activity: Write about some of the things that make you unique or one of a kind.
