

Read what Fahad's argument. Notice how he uses so and however to link his ideas and opinions.

Is it a good idea to study independently? This is a question that students and teachers often discuss.

Some people think that it is excellent because all learners are different and need to learn in their own way, at their own pace.

However, other people say that it is good to work with, and learn from, other students in class.

Clearly, there are arguments on both sides. However, in my opinion it is possible to do both, so sometimes we can study in class, but other times we can study independently online.

Complete the table with so and however.

_____	is used to introduce a different or contrasting opinion.
_____	shows that an idea follows logically from what was said before.

Read and decide where to use so and however.

Enzo thinks the school day is long enough already _____ he doesn't think homework is a good idea. _____, Anil and Miguel want to remember what they learned in the day _____ they don't mind doing homework.

There are many different opinions _____ you need to make up your own mind.
_____, at the end of the day, it will be the teachers who decide!