Name: _____

🛍️ THE MALL MISSION: QUANTIFIER CHALLENGE

Quantifiers are words or phrases we use before a noun to show the number or amount of something. We use them instead of exact numbers to describe how much or how many.

Key Rules Refresher:
• Much is used for a large number or amount with uncountable nouns.
• Many is used for a large number or amount with countable nouns.
• A little means some and is used with uncountable nouns.
• Few means more than two (a small number) and is used with countable nouns.
• Any is often used in negative forms.
• No means none, nothing.

Part 1: Quantifier Application: Choose the Best Fit ☑

Choose the best quantifier (A, B, or C) to complete the sentence.

1. The store assistant was friendly, but they didn't have _____ knowledge about the new gaming computers in stock.
A. many B. much C. few
2. When the biggest sale of the year started, there were _____ teenagers running toward the clothing section.
A. much B. a little C. a lot of
3. We found _____ amazing discounts on shoes, but only in sizes that were too big for us.
A. any B. some C. no
4. My sister was disappointed because the shelf was completely empty; there was _____ of the special edition soda left.
A. much B. a lot C. no
5. We were short on time, so we only bought _____ items that were on the essential list and left everything else.
A. a little B. few C. much

LIVEWORKSHEETS

6. Since the store was closing in ten minutes, we only had _____ time left to get to the checkout.
A. many B. a little C. few
7. I forgot my wallet at home! Do you have _____ cash I can borrow to pay for this snack?
A. many B. some C. a lot of
8. I didn't see _____ of my friends shopping there yesterday, which was strange for a Saturday.
A. much B. any C. no

Part 2: The Shopping Budget Challenge 💰

You are reviewing your shopping list and budget for the party supplies. Use the correct quantifier from the box below to complete the sentences. Each quantifier must only be used once.

a lot of	much	any	few	a little
some	many		no

1. We are almost finished shopping, but we still need to spend _____ effort finding the best decorations.
2. We had a huge argument about which food to buy because there were _____ choices in the party aisle.
3. The cashier was having technical issues, so there was _____ movement in the checkout queue for five minutes.
4. We need to buy _____ snacks for everyone to share, maybe five or six bags of chips.
5. We realized we didn't have _____ money left in the budget, so we put the expensive party hats back.
6. The store was running _____ amazing sales on drinks and sodas this week.
7. We need to buy just _____ milk for the coffee for the adults.
8. There are _____ shopping trolleys available near the entrance, but we only need a basket.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Part 3: Identifying and Fixing Errors 🛠️

The following sentences contain errors where the quantifier is used incorrectly with the noun (either countable or uncountable). Rewrite the sentences, replacing the underlined quantifier with a more appropriate one based on the rules.

Example: Original: We didn't have much coupons for the big discounts. Correction:We didn't have many coupons for the big discounts.

1. I had many patience while waiting in the slow line, but my friend was very annoyed.

Correction:

_____

2. We didn't find some advice about managing our budget from the salesperson.

Correction:

_____

3. The store had a little items left on the shelf after the huge morning rush.

Correction:

_____

4. Did you purchase no fruit for the party decorations we planned?

Correction:

_____

5. There was few noise coming from the toy section today, which was unusual.

Correction:

_____

LIVEWORKSHEETS