Nearby, a grasshopper was playing and laughing at the ants. “Why work so hard, Ants? Come and enjoy the day!” said the grasshopper., The ants stopped and said, “We are collecting food for the winter. When the snow comes, there will be no food. What will you eat then, Grasshopper?”

The grasshopper ignored them and kept playing. When winter came, the ground was covered in snow. The ants stayed warm in their nest. They had plenty of food because they worked hard in summer. Meanwhile the grasshopper was cold and hungry because there was no food outside. The grasshopper felt weak and regretted wasting his time in summer.
