

Dialogue: Talking to Teacher

Please read and answer the questions below:

Mr. Kim has twins, Sung-ho and Young-ho. The teacher, Mr. Schmidt is talking to Mr. Kim about the boys.

Mr. Kim: Hello, Mr. Schmidt. What can I do for you today?

Mr. Schmidt: It's about the twins. They are in the same English class together and they are not learning anything. They are distracting each other and the other students that sit close to them.

Mr. Kim: Oh dear! I didn't know. They behave well at home. What can we do to help?

Mr. Schmidt: Perhaps one of them can change classes. I think Young-ho can go to the morning class and Sung-ho can stay.

Mr. Kim: I don't think Young-ho will like that. Maybe they can sit far away from each other in class instead.

Mr. Schmidt: We already did that. They just threw pencils and erasers at each other and yelled bad words.

Mr. Kim: Can I talk to them first? I'm sorry, I had no idea. Please give them one more chance. I will talk to them as soon as possible.

Mr. Schmidt: Okay, I will give them one more chance.

Mr. Kim: Thank you very much, Mr. Schmidt. I will talk to the boys, and they will behave well in class.
