SCIENCE TECHNOLOGY

1. Technology has contributed to education either. For one thing, word
2. processing can helps you to write much faster and more neatly,
3. instead of using messy handwriting. And spell-checks enough correct your
4. work for you, which is good because then it's of a few higher standard.
5. In the world of both work, computers have made job searching much
6. more easier. You can actually apply for a job directly on a company's
7. website. And thanks to local media, you can to connect with employers
8. in ways that were never such possible before. For me, that's what
9. it's all about - providing you with lots options.
