Source: Oxford, classic tales

I.E. LEONIDAS RUBIO VILLEGAS
ENGLISH READING ACTIVITIES
SIXTH GRADE

'Mmm,' says Lownu. 'Go and find the pieces. All the pieces of blue.'

'Find all the pieces,' says Lownu. 'And bring them here!'

LIVEWORKSHEETS

'Here's a piece!' says the little boy.

'Here's another!' says the little girl.

'Here's one!' says the big boy.

'Here's another!' says the big girl.

And the baby says: 'Blue!'

The children find ten pieces.

'One, two, three, four, five,' say the children. 'Six, seven, eight, nine, ten.'

LIVEWORKSHEETS

'Here are the pieces!' say the children. 'The pieces of blue sky!'

'How many holes are there?' asks Lownu.

They count: 'One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty. Oh no! TWENTY!'

LIVEWORKSHEETS

I.E. LEONIDAS RUBIO VILLEGAS
ENGLISH READING ACTIVITIES
SIXTH GRADE

Name: _____ Course:_____

Lownu mends the sky

Activity 1

1. True or false

a. Lownu wants the children to find pieces of red. ( )

b. The children find ten pieces of blue sky. ( )

c. The baby cannot speak; he is quiet. ( )

d. There are twenty holes in the sky. ( )

e. The children are happy to find the pieces ( )

2. Who says that?

a. All the pieces of blue
   1. The children
   2. Lownu
   3. The baby

b. Here is a piece
   1. The little boy
   2. The big girl
   3. Lownu

c. Blue!
   1. The big boy
   2. The little girl
   3. The baby

d. "how many holes are there?"
   1. The big girl
   2. Lownu
   3. The little boy

LIVEWORKSHEETS

e. "Oh no! TWENTY"
   1. The baby
   2. The children
   3. Lownu

3. Story sequence: number from 1 to 5

_____ Lownu counts the holes in the sky: one, two, three...

_____ The baby finds a piece of blue and says: "Blue!"

_____ Lownu asks the children to find all the pieces of blue.

_____ The family is surprised because there are twenty holes.

_____ The boy and the girl find pieces of blue in the grass and trees.

4. Complete the text with the corresponding word

Lownu tells the _____ to find the pieces. They look everywhere. They find ten _____ of blue. But in the sky, there are many _____. The family counts them. There are _____ holes! Oh no! The sky needs more _____.

LIVEWORKSHEETS