Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions from 19 to 24.

The Internet has become an important part of our daily lives. It helps people communicate with friends and family, even if they live far away. Students can use the Internet to search for information, do homework, and learn new skills. Many schools now use online platforms to support learning.

However, using the Internet too much can cause some problems. People may spend less time talking to others face-to-face. Some students may also become addicted to games or social media. This can affect their health and study results.

To use the Internet effectively, we should manage our time carefully. It is also important to choose useful websites and avoid harmful content. Parents and teachers should guide students to use the Internet in a safe and responsible way.

During the day, we went fishing and helped local farmers in the fields. I learned how to plant vegetables and take care of animals. Although the work was quite hard, I really enjoyed it because it was a new experience for me.

In the evening, we sat together and shared stories. There was no Internet or television, but we still felt happy. This trip helped me understand the value of simple life and family time. I hope I can visit the countryside again next year.
