Nouns

1. Countable vs Uncountable nouns.

- chair
- water
- information
- apple
- money
- book
- rice
- idea
- furniture
- car
- advice
- bottle

2. Determine if the word in the blank should be gerund or regular.

- (Work) _____ long hours without breaks can seriously (affect) _____ your health.
- They (apologize) _____ for (interrupt) _____ the discussion earlier.
- She succeeded in (build) _____ her own business from scratch.
- I (appreciate) _____ you (take) _____ the time to explain the problem clearly.
- They (consider) _____ (invest) _____ in renewable energy a smart long-term decision.
- (Travel) _____ alone for the first time (teach) _____ people a lot about themselves.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Subject vs Object pronouns.

- ___ saw ___ at the bus stop. (I / her)
- ___ called ___ last night. (he / me)
- ___ don't understand ___. (we / them)
- ___ invited ___ to the meeting. (she / us)
- ___ helped ___ with the project. (they / him)
- ___ met ___ after class. (I / them)
- ___ likes ___. (she / me)
- ___ didn't tell ___. (he / her)
- ___ are waiting for ___. (we / him)
- ___ sent ___ an email. (they / me)

Any, some, every, no.

- Do you have _____ soap?
- I needed help and ___ helped me.
- We didn't buy _____ cookies.
- They ate _____ in the fridge.
- Susan needs_____ help.
- _____ likes pizza with pineapple.
- He was sick and _____ visited him.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Simplify the following sentences using possessive pronouns.

- Which is your jacker and which is my jacket.
- This office is her office, and that one is his office.
- We followed their strategy, not our strategy.
- Her interpretation of the data contradicts his interpretation of the data.
- My responsibilities are different from your responsibilities.
- I prefer your solution, but he prefers his solution.This office is her office, and that one is his office.

LIVEWORKSHEETS