READING COMPREHENSION

Hello! My name is Hermione Granger and I love studying.
My week is always very busy.
On Monday at 8:00, I have a subject where I learn about important events and famous people from the past. Later, at 10:00, I study a subject that helps me solve problems using numbers and calculations. On Tuesday at 9:00, I have a lesson where we do experiments and learn how the world works. At 11:00, I study a language and learn new vocabulary, grammar and pronunciation.
On Wednesday, I start the day with a creative subject where I draw and paint. Later, I learn about countries, maps and continents.
On Thursday, I attend a class where we sing, listen to music and learn about instruments. After that, I use computers and technology to complete different tasks.
Finally, on Friday, I have a subject where we exercise, play sports and stay active. At the end of the week, I learn about living things, plants, animals and the human body.
I enjoy all my subjects, but I especially love learning new things every day!

Read the text and complete Hermione's timetable.
