The National Animal of the UAE

The camel is the national animal of the UAE, and it's like a special friend to the people.

Camels are super cool because they can live in the hot desert without needing a lot of water. Long ago, they helped the UAE's friends, the Bedouin people, by giving them milk, meat, and wool. Even today, camels are important and loved in the UAE.

They're strong, just like the people here, and they remind us of our awesome traditions and history.
