Unit 1

Instructions: Read. Then write True or False for each statement.

Beach Restaurant

Are you tired of the same old restaurants? Are you ready to try something new? If you're in the northeastern United States, you can go to The Cove. That's the name of a restaurant in Belfast, Maine. The reason most people go is for the clam bake, which is a traditional way of cooking a very special meal.

A clam bake begins outside. They cook it on the beach! Restaurant workers use wood to make a fire in the sand. The fire heats up several large rocks. Then, when the rocks are very hot, the workers put wet seaweed on top of the rocks. On top of the seaweed, they put three kinds of seafood, potatoes, onions, and corn. Then they cover everything. It cooks for about an hour. If you arrive early enough, you can watch the whole process. Then you go inside the restaurant to eat.

At The Cove, the meal arrives at your table family style. That means they put everything on a big plate in the middle of the table. Then you take some of the food and put it on your own plate. Everyone gets a bowl of melted butter, too. You can put the seafood and vegetables into the butter, or you can put the butter all over the food on your plate.

If you want to try a real New England clam bake, this is the right place. The Cove is only open from April 15 until November 1, so make plans to go there on your next vacation.

Instructions: Read. Then complete each statement with two words from the text.

All About Me

I'm an introvert—I enjoy time alone—but I'm not shy. Even though I like spending time by myself, I like meeting new people, too. I don't like making small talk, like talking about the weather. I prefer meaningful conversations and making deep connections with people. I think that people are comfortable talking to me. Actually, they often tell me their problems.

Sometimes I'm quiet around large groups of people. I'm not afraid of crowds, but—especially when I'm in a new place—I prefer to watch people and notice things before I start a conversation. I like hearing about people's lives and trying to find things we have in common. I ask a lot of questions.

I think I have the ability to connect with people. I know a lot of people from college, and I still talk to many people I met in high school, but I only have a few close friends. We enjoy spending time together. We either stay in and play games or go out to a quiet restaurant. They understand that sometimes—especially after a lot of social activities—I need some time alone.

You might think I'm anti-social, but I don't think I am. I just like to have time to think about things after a long day. Time alone helps me think more clearly. I have a hard time making quick choices. I like to research my options before making decisions. I really hate rushing. If I'm traveling, for example, I'd rather take my time walking around a small area of the city than try to see many things in one day.
