7 Grammar and Vocabulary Review

Grammar

1 Present perfect: already & yet

I/You/We/They He/She/It	have has	already made a cake.
I/You/We/They He/She/It	haven't hasn't	made a cake yet.

Have Has	I/you/we/they he/she/it	made a cake yet?

Yes/No,	I/you/we/they he/she/it	have/haven't. has/hasn't.

Remember that already is used with affirmative sentences and usually goes before the main verb.

Yet is used with negative sentences and questions and usually goes at the end.

2 Present perfect: just

I/You/We/They He/She/It	have has	just eaten an apple.

Have Has	I/you/we/they he/she/it	just eaten an apple?

Yes/No,	I/you/we/they he/she/it	have/haven't. has/hasn't.

We use just when the action has taken place very recently. We don't use just in negative sentences.

Remember that we use just when the action has happened very recently. It always goes before the main verb.

Vocabulary

1 Preparing for a party

send invitations

put out the food

clean the furniture

make a cake

serve drinks

go shopping

blow up balloons

sweep the floor

decorate the room

sell tickets

make posters

choose the music

2 Accidents

twist my ankle

scratch my leg

cut my finger

burn my hand

bruise my arm

LIVEWORKSHEETS