KEEP THE VERB IN SHAPE

[Verse 1]
Yesterday I _____ the early train,
I _____ across the campus in the rain. I _____ my friend outside the library door,
We_____ about the test and then we _____ more.
She _____ up her notebook, I found my pen, We _____ the dates and the facts again. The lecture started; our professor _____ , We _____ closely,_____ at one small joke.

[Pre-Chorus]
One day _____ , one story _____ , Some verbs changed, some added "-ed"
Look at what we did and see—
The past is telling history.

[Chorus]
I _____ , you_____ , we_____ , we tried,
She called, he answered, they arrived. I went, you saw, we made, we knew, The past tells what we used to do.
_____ you study? Yes, I did.
_____ they leave? They left at six.
I_____ stay; she_____ wait—
We use "did" and keep the verb in shape!

[Verse 2]
Last Friday we_____ a place to eat, We found a little café on a quiet street.
I ordered soup; my roommate had some tea, The server_____ the wrong one first to me. We sent it back, then paid the bill,
We_____ the bus and climbed the hill. At home I read the notes we made, _____
Then wrote three questions for the game we played.

[Pre-Chorus]
Some verbs take an "-ed" to show,
Some change completely as they go:
Go became " _____ ," see became "_____ ," Make became "made"—remember the law.

[Chorus]

LIVEWORKSHEETS

I played, you watched, we learned, we tried, She called, he answered, they arrived. I went, you saw, we made, we knew,
The past tells what we used to do.
Did you study? Yes, I did.
Did they leave? They left at six.
I didn't stay; she didn't wait—
We use "did" and keep the verb in shape!

[Bridge]
_____ Maya _____ her book? She did. Did Leo take the test? He did.
Did we understand? We did—
We asked, we checked, we learned the rule.
For questions, " _____ " comes first in line, The main verb stays in its base-form design.
For negatives, "didn't" takes the lead:
"I didn't go," "They read."

[Final Chorus]
I played, you watched, we learned, we tried,
She called, he answered, they arrived.
I went, you saw, we made, we knew,
The past tells what we used to do.
Did you study? Yes, I did.
Did they leave? They left at six.
I didn't stay; she didn't wait—
We use "did" and keep the verb in shape!

[Outro]
Yesterday we talked, today we know:
Past simple tells what happened long ago.
