Name: _____

Grammar: Kinds of Sentences

Imperative and Exclamatory Sentences

Remember:

An imperative sentence gives a command, provides instruction or offers an advice. Imperative sentences end with a period (●).

An exclamatory sentence shows strong feeling or surprise.

Exclamatory Sentences end with an exclamation mark (!).

Instructions: Read each sentence. Write the punctuation mark it ends with. Then Type what kind of sentence it is- imperative or exclamatory.

1. The Ps5. play station is the greatest game ever ____ _____

2. Buy the Ps5. play station for Christmas _____ _____

3. Wow! This gift is so heavy ____ _____

4. Open your present ____ _____

5. Hooray, my parents love me so much ____ _____

6. Don't get distracted while playing the game ____ _____

7. My parents are the best ____ _____

8. Never play games on your Ps5. play station during school days ____ _____

9. This Ps5. play station is the best gift for any child ____ _____

10. Play games on your Ps5. play station. ____ _____

By: Mordell Farrington

LIVEWORKSHEETS