Nearly half of all homes in Britain get outside staff <sup>1</sup> ..... (do) their domestic chores for an average of six hours per week. The most common reasons that people gave for having someone <sup>2</sup> ..... (help) around the house were their own long working hours and to avoid arguments with their partner. A third of people said if they didn't have help, nothing would get <sup>3</sup> ..... (do). The most popular domestic jobs are having the house <sup>4</sup> ..... (clean) regularly, getting someone <sup>5</sup> ..... (do) the gardening and having a handyman <sup>6</sup> ..... (fix) things when they are broken. Some of these services do not come cheap either. People pay up to $800 per week to have a personal assistant <sup>7</sup> ..... (organize) their appointments or have their young baby <sup>8</sup> ..... (care) for.
