give us more information about someone or something.

We use “who” for people.

We use “which” for things or animals.

We use “where” for places.

The lady who works in that shop is Jon’s mother.

Here’s the bag which you left on my desk.

A tiger is an animal which lives in the jungle.

That’s the hotel where we stayed last summer holiday.

I. Complete the sentences. Use “Who/ Where/ Which”.

1. A printer is a machine which prints out documents.
2. Shakira is a singer has sung a lot of hit songs.
3. An armchair is a piece of furniture you sit on.
4. A park is a place people usually go for a walk.
5. Is that the girl is the star student of the month?
6. That’s the restaurant I met the president of America.
7. Do you know the name of the person discovered America?

II. Correct the mistakes.

The town (1) which I was born has changed greatly over the last twenty years. Now, there is a modern shopping centre in the place (2) which my school used to be and all the children (3) whose went there have grown up and moved away. The park (4) where was my favourite place as a child, is now a car park.

Some things are still the same though. Mrs. Jones (5) which is now sixty years old, still works in the Post Office. The hospital (6) which I was born is still standing, although it is now much bigger.
